Hitler Speeds Up Air Attack Upon Britain

Nazi Air Raids On British Isles Are Intensified

Attacks Are "Stepped Up" According To Reports From London

EIGHT HUNDRED PLANES IN ATTACK

British Fighters Apparently Keep Raiders Away From Center Of London

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Chancellor Adolf Hitler's threat to "eradicate" British cities took form and substance today when Nazi air raids on England were stepped up to an unprecedented pitch, with at least 800 bombers and fighters sweeping across the coast in gigantic formations.

Three times the air raid alarms sounded in London following last night's record-breaking warning of more than seven hours, and heavy damage was done to outlying districts of the capital.

Use "Bread Baskets"

The Germans dropped high explosive and incendiary bombs in various sectors and for the second time used the so-called "Molotov braed baskets"—huge canisters filled with hundreds of small firebombs of the type first used by Soviet Russia against Finland.

Anti-aircraft guns and royal air force planes apparently kept the attackers away from the center of London. The three alarms that sounded in quick surccession during

If regular enlistments continue at the present rate, conscription would hardly be necessary to build up a fairly sizeable army in this country. Sergeant Owen Tighe, of the local recruiting office stated that 66 out of 102 young men who applied for enlistment last week were accepted and are now in the service. At the Pittsburgh office, 822 were accepted out of 1283 applications. It was the biggest week the local office has experienced since it was opened.

Rev. Charles J. Burton, pastor of St. Andrews Chapel, states that while visiting recently in Buffalo and Niagara Falls, he was assured that there would be a good delegation to the annual Gymanfa Ganu (Welsh Singing Festival) if it was held in New Castle in 1941. Rev. Burton urged the delegates in that vicinity to the 1940 Gymanfa business meeting, to cast their votes in favor of this city securing the occasion.

German Bomb Hits Hospital

Twenty-Three Patients In Hospital Killed By Bomb Of Nazi Raiders

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Sept. 6—Twenty one pairs of sightless eyes today stared at me from waxen faces and 21 women mutely asked me, with the force of the dead speaking to the living:

"Why did they want to kill us?"

They all died with their hands over their heads. That was the way they moved as they lay in their hospital beds just before death came. They couldn't leap for shelter because they were patients and ill or hurt.

When they heard the scream of the German bombs, their instinctive gesture was to pull the bed covers over their heads.

At any rate, that's the way Jimmy, the mortuary man, explained it as he took me around to view the ghastliest sight this war has yet produced, and the worst German bombing of a hospital that has yet taken place in this country.

The reason workmen were still there burrowing so diligently was because there are still two women

Negotiations On Shanghai Assume "Grave Proportions" Says Spokesman

(International News Service)

TOKYO, Sept. 6—Negotiations between Japan and the United States are assuming "grave proportions," a Japanese foreign office spokesman said today as a result of Secretary of State Cordell Hull's stress upon his "original ideas" for a permanent solution of problems at Shanghai.

The spokesman said that Japan hoped to localize the negotiations at Shanghai and would "frown" on direct Washington-Tokyo conferences for the time being.

However, the spokesman declined to comment on Hull's statement that the United States is interested in maintenance of the status quo of French Indo-China. He said there was no cause for apprehension on this score and that negotiations between Japanese and Indo-Chinese authorities were proceeding in an orderly manner.

President Avoids Direct Comment On House Action

"Tempus Fugit" Only Comment On Action On Draft Delay

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6—Carefully avoiding any direct comment on pending legislation, President Roosevelt today nevertheless took an indirect slap at the house for its action in voting a 60-day delay in the conscription bill.

Reporters were loaded with questions seeking the president's reaction to the amendment of Rep. Fish (R) N. Y., passed by the house yesterday, which gives American youth a 60-day "last chance" to volunteer before conscription becomes effective.

Mr. Roosevelt neatly dodged them all. There are three bills pending in which the administration is extremely interested, he said—one, the final executive appropriation bill; two, the selective training measure, and three, the excess profits tax bill.

Mr. Roosevelt said he could not comment further with the exception of the single latin observation "Tempus Fugit," that, he said, was all he could possibly say on pending legislation.

Questions immediately veered to an earlier press conference wherein he had chided the house and senate for failing to take up the measure although it was requested many weeks ago.

The chief executive advised his press conference they couldn't get him into any argument, and advised that reporters look up the official transcript of that session.

"Fires were started in the Harz Mountains and Black Forest," the communique stated. "Synthetic oil plants at Stettin, on the Baltic, oil tanks at Kiel, refineries at Hamburg and at Regensburg on the Danube were bombed.

"The docks at Emden, freight yards at Hamm and Soest and a number of German airports in occupied Holland also were raided."

House Votes For Sixty Days Delay For Conscription

Amendment Adopted To Give Volunteer System For Army A Chance

FURTHER CHANGES IN DRAFT BILL LIKELY

House Foes Of Measure Battle For Additional Curbs On Draft Program

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Jubilant over adoption of the Fish amendment postponing conscription for 60 days, house foes of the draft bill battled today for additional curbs on the measure.

Administration leaders, jolted by the revolt of the house, planned to force a roll-call in an effort to reverse the 185 to 155 vote by which the Fish amendment was adopted.

The amendment, similar to the Hayden amendment defeated in the senate by two votes, merely postpones the draft to await results of a drive for volunteers for the army and navy.

Nevertheless, some partisans of the measure declared that it would upset the entire machinery of the war department, create discord and further delay the arms expansion program.

Other Amendments Proposed

Additional curbs to be proposed include:

1. Limit draft act to two years instead of five to avoid alleged possibility of establishing permanent conscription system.
2. Limit draft to ages 21 to 31 instead of 21 to 44 inclusive.
3. Limit service of draftees to continental United States.
4. Prohibit induction of men until adequate housing has been provided.

As the draft bill fight moved toward its climax, groups of praying women "picketed" the capitol while crowds swarmed house lobbies seeking entrance to the chamber.

Last night heavy police reinforcements were summoned to disperse

"This country has made up its mind to have a fleet in the Atlantic and to do it we must have more places to repair our biggest battleships," Vinson said.

Detour, Due To Bridge Replacement, Will Be Lifted Tomorrow, Reed States

Announcement was made today by Highway Superintendent Ed. O. Reed that the detour on Route 317, between Mt. Jackson and Bessemer, will be removed tomorrow and that traffic will be permitted to use the bridge on and after that date.

This project was originally scheduled for completion the last of July, but a drainage problem was encountered, which held up the completion of the job on scheduled time.

A new bridge was put in place, and the S-curve at that point was eliminated, making a much-needed improvement.

Nazis See Rumania In Rome-Berlin Axis

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Sept. 6.—Abdication of King Carol means that Rumania henceforth may be considered an adjunct of the Rome-Berlin axis, informed German quarters said today.

His successor, 18-year-old King Michael, is an open supporter of the pro-nazi Rumanian iron guard, it was said, and will rule his country in line with axis policies.

King Carol's fall drew nothing but deep satisfaction in qualified German quarters. The abdicated monarch was described as "a man of loose politics, closely adherent to the Franco-British system of anti-German alliances and intrigues, who failed to grasp the new trend."

In the last few days or weeks, it was said, Carol tried by political juggling to reinstate himself but failed.

According to information in Berlin, Carol tried to frustrate his iron guard opponents up to the last moment although revolt was threatening anywhere. He finally gave in when iron guard leaders served him with an ultimatum, telling him to quit the throne or take the consequences.

More U. S. Military Supplies Are Sought By Britain-Canada

By JACK VINCENT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Release of more American military supplies to Great Britain and Canada, this time in greater quantities, was in the offing today after it was revealed that World war tanks as well as destroyers and munitions were being traded or sold to Germany's foes.

In addition, reports circulated in Washington on the virtual eve of the renewal of the joint American-Canadian defense conference Monday that Britain, through Canada, is seeking:

1. Release of the secret army bomb sight, said to be the most accurate ever invented.
2. Release of the army's four-motored heavy bombers, also said to be the best in the world.
3. Privilege of training royal air force and Canadian pilots at U. S. army fields in this country.

Destroyers At Canadian Port

First Of U. S. Destroyers Transferred To Britain Are Turned Over

TRANSFER CREWS IN NEUTRALITY ZONE

(International News Service)

AN EAST CANADIAN PORT, Sept. 6—The first of the American destroyers transferred to Great Britain in the bases-for-warcraft swap steamed slowly into this harbor today.

From the time they left Boston, until they made port, the vessels had encountered dense fog and travelled at reduced speed along the North American coast.

Owing to the war there was no official welcome. Only those spectators who happened to be at the waterfront saw the warcraft arrive.

American bluejackets who manned the destroyers on the voyage from Boston planned to return to the United States as soon as possible.

Boston, Sept. 6—The Union Jack today waved from the masts of three of the 50 American World war destroyers given to Great Britain in return for naval and air base leases on British possessions in the Western Hemisphere.

An attache at the Boston Navy Yard disclosed that the 1200-ton fighters were transferred to British service at sea on the neutrality zone boundary line off Nova Scotia. The American sailors, it was reported,

Widespread Disorders Lead To Abdication Of Throne By King Carol

DICTATOR PLEDGES MICHAEL ALLEGIANCE

Abdicated King Prepares To Leave Country As Soon As Possible

By A. L. ARTEMIE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BUCHAREST, Sept. 6.—King Carol of Rumania, bowing to the demands of thousands of iron guardists who tried to storm his palace, abdicated the throne today in favor of his son, Crown Prince Michael.

Official announcement of Carol's action came as no surprise to Bucharest, which had been expecting him to leave the throne as a result of the widespread disorders sweeping Rumania during the past few days.

Rumania's new dictatorial regime issued an appeal to the nation to rally around the new monarch, young King Michael.

Carol gave up all attempts to retain the throne after an all-night conference with Premier Gen. Ion Antonescu and Horia Sima, iron guard leader, who promised to participate in the government only on condition that Carol would quit.

At 6 a. m., weary and bleary-eyed, Carol agreed to hand back the throne to his son.

Michael Takes Oath

Following his formal proclamation as king, Michael took the oath of office at 9:30 a. m.

"I swear to preserve Rumania, its borders and its integrity," said the new monarch in taking the oath.

"May God help me!"

Immediately Premier Antonescu swore his allegiance to Michael.

The ceremony took place in the throne hall of the Royal palace. In addition to Antonescu, Patriarch Nicodim and M. Radulescu, chief of the supreme court, were present.

Carol issued a farewell abdication

Chemical Company Damaged By Fire Following Blast

(International News Service)

READING, Pa., Sept. 6.—Fed by exploding paints and chemicals, a three-hour fire today destroyed six buildings of the Allegheny Chemical Company at nearby Womelsdorf with a loss of $100,000.

Four hundred fifty volunteer firemen from seven communities battled vainly as flames spread from building to building. The ruined structures were combination brick and frame workhouses from one to two and a half stories in height.

Company officials, who estimate damage to paint and insecticide supplies at $100,000, were unable to determine origin of the blaze immediately. Only two men were in the plant at the time and fire officials reported no one was injured.

President Of Lafayette Assails Third Term For Any President

TESTIFIES BEFORE SENATE COMMITTEE

By ROBERT A. McGILL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Asserting that a third term for President Roosevelt—or any other candidate—will result in dictatorship, William M. Lewis, president of Lafayette college, Easton, Pa., urged immediate limitation of White House tenure.

Lewis testified Thursday before a senate judiciary subcommittee holding hearings on two proposed constitutional amendments, one to limit presidential terms to one six-year period, the other to two four-year periods. The hearings, serving as a forum on the third term issue, are being conducted by Sen. Burke (D) Neb., sponsor of the six-year limitation resolution.

Tremendous Importance

Lewis declared "the question of the preservation of our Republican principles assumes tremendous importance," because of the president's decision to run for a third term.

"What once might have been a somewhat academic question now becomes a stark reality," he said. "We are called upon to see to it that it can't happen here.

"Our people are no less emotional—are no more difficult to lead than some of those across the water. Therefore, everything that can be done to prevent one man power should be done."

Lewis asserted that he was an active champion of limitation of presidential terms to one six-year period long before President Roosevelt made his historic decision to again seek office.

To Put Senators On Record

Pre-election consideration of legislation which would put senate Democrats on record for or against a third term for President Roosevelt was predicted by Sen. Burke (D) Neb.

Burke, chairman of the senate judiciary subcommittee holding hearings on the third term issue, said he had been assured by senate leaders that any anti-third term legislation reported to the senate will be debated before an adjournment.

The Nebraskan predicted that his subcommittee and full judiciary committee will adopt some form of legislation which, if approved by the senate, would register opposition to a third term for any president.

The subcommittee is holding hearings on two resolutions which would amend the constitution to place limitations on presidential terms of service. Burke's resolution would limit the tenure of office to one six-year term. Another, by Sen. Bridges (R) N. H., would limit it to not more than two four-year terms.

at Grantham college, Harrisburg, last June. The Ellwood City Union was accorded an additional honor by receiving the award for the best publicity during the past year.

Following a tasty luncheon, served by members of the Women's Missionary society, the gathering was addressed by Rev. J. R. Neale of New Wilmington, on "The Challenge of Paganism," whose address was well received. He spoke of the need of educating American youth to the need of the zeal of Christianity; asserting that the misinformed youth takes up with the world's isms with great ardor. Most of the teachings of the world today are anti-Christian and teachings should be along the lines of character building, the greatest sources of which can be found in the Bible. The wrong of Americans today is the lack of the thought of God.

It was announced that the state convention would take place October 2 at Wilkinsburg and the county officials will have a business session, to take care of delegates names and additional arrangements before this date. Omar Fink, Jr., will compete at the state convention for the grand diamond in the medal contest. He has quite a record for a local youth, in that he has won every contest which he entered.

an anti-conscription demonstration by nearly 1,000 persons on the steps of the capitol. Rev. Owen A. Knox of Detroit and five others in the crowd were detained in the capitol's guard room for questioning, but were quickley released.

Demonstration Occurs

When an attempt was made to continue the demonstration in the supreme court plaza, a scuffle ensued. One demonstrator was arrested; several suffered minor injuries.

Rep. Thomason (D) Tex., said the war department informed him that the amendment, if kept in the bill, would delay the entire defense program because an entirely new system of bolstering man-power would have to be adopted.

Fish, however, declared that the amendment "will not delay increase in the army by one day, one hour or one minute."

The amendment, he pointed out, requires the president to call for 400,000 volunteers immediately and 400,000 more after Jan. 1 for one year's training. Meantime, draft machinery would be set up. The president would conscript enough men to make up the two quotas of 800,000.

the morning hours were based upon reports that bomber squadrons had crossed the coast and were heading toward London.

Shoot Down 34 Planes

Latest official announcements said that 34 German machines had been brought down in the day's battles. Nine R. A. F. craft were lost, but the pilots of six of them are safe.

The estimate of 800 German planes in action so far was provided by watchers along the coast, who said this figure was a conservative one.

At the same time it was reported unofficially that at least 15 German raiders had been shot down during the morning in a series of wild air combats resulting from the massive German raids. Some reports even put this figure as high as 20.

The intensity of the sky battle and the machine gunning of various areas attacked during the morning was reported greater than at any previous time in the war.

Second Warning

The second warning of the day came a few minutes after official announcement that henceforth the alarms would sound for only one minute instead of two. The "all clear" will continue for two minutes.

The German machines poured ceaselessly across the channel from early in the morning onward. After crossing the coast each heavy formation split fanwise to the east and west.

Watchers oin the coast reported that the greatest air combats of the war were raging throughout the southeast of England and that "innumerable" planes were being shot down.

The British royal air force brought into action some of the largest fighting patrols that have been sent up so far. According to latest reports, the R. A. F. was successfully harrying and splitting up the Germans, and in most instances driving them back as they struck inland.

Many German "stragglers" were reported fleeing back to the French side of the channel coast—some of them obviously in difficulty.

But in most cases the formations returned to their home bases by different routes.

ammunition for the destroyers in this country, and the promise of several hundred World war tanks for Canada for training mechanized troops there.

Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, confirmed negotiations regarding the tanks. He said that the army was "favorably" inclined, and indicated that the deal would go through. Marshall explained that the tanks, capable of only 2½ or three miles an hour were useless to the United States.

The army chief said he did not care to express an opinion as to whether or not he favored release of the bomb sight.

Meanwhile, it was learned that the army expects quantity delivery of airplanes to start in October and it was possible that some army planes, which by that time would be obsolete, might be released for sale to Canada or Great Britian. In this class are medium bombers, ideal for night-bombing although not of the most modern type.

proclamation which was broadcast by radio and published by the newspapers.

With these formalities complete, Antonescu issued still another proclamation to the nation. It said:

"Brothers: I urge you to forget everything and rally around our young king. Preserve order and go to work. Long live Rumania."

It was expected that Carol would leave Bucharest for Switzerland tonight.

King Michael's first official act was to dispatch a special plane to Florence to bring his mother, Princess Helene, back to Bucharest. She has been living abroad since her estrangement from Carol years ago.

Premier Antonescu ordered the Rumanian army to give Michael the oath of Allegiance at 6 p. m.

Enroute To Turkey

London, Sept. 6.—Former King Carol of Rumania, who abdicated his throne today in favor of his son, Michael, is believed to be en route to Turkey by airplane, an exchange telegraph dispatch from Bucharest said today.

His favorite companion, Mme. Magda Lupescu, already is believed en route to Turkey aboard a Royal yacht.

Prepares For Exile

Bucharest, Sept. 6.—His right arm raised in the Fascist salute, 18-year-old King Michael of Rumania accepted the cheers of his people from the balcony of the royal palace this afternoon while his father, former King Carol, packed his belongings for the second exile of his lifetime.

Thousands of Michael's supporters marched through the streets shouting and singing anti-Jewish songs as Carol announced his abdication and sought some means of leaving the country to rejoin his faforite, Mme. Magda Lupescu in exile.

He had planned to fly to Switzerland to meet her, but no Rumanian pilot would consent to take the controls. The ex-king, reported in a highly nervous state as a result of hectic nightlong consultations which preceded his abdication, booked passage by train.

Carol was thrust from his throne by Premier General Ion Antonescu, new dictator of Rumania, who took immediate steps to punish other military leaders who had vainly pleaded with the monarch to stand by.

missing, making 23 dead in all. So blasted and pulverized are the ruins that the head of the hospital said:

"We may never find them all."

At the huge crater dug by the bomb there was full evidence of the missile's destructive force. The bomb was heavy enough to go clear through the roof, the ceiling and floor of the second story and through to the first floor where it detonated and literally pulverized two wards occupied solely by women, mostly old.

were removed to the Tender Denebola, which accompanied the Hale, the Aaron Ward and the Abel P. Upshur.

Five other destroyers were enroute for the secret rendezvous with the royal navy. They were the Crowinshield, Herndon, Welles, W C. Wood and Buchanan. Three more destroyers were at the navy yard for a check-up.

Truck Upsets At Rose Point Bridge

Three Vehicles Figure In Mishap On Butler Road Thursday Night

In an effort to escape a head-on collision with a truck and trailer conveying steel, a truck and trailer carrying butter and eggs, and reportedly driven by Kenneth Donoho, 1060 North Jackson Street, Frankfort, Ind., upset at 9:30 p. m. Thursday near the Rose Point bridge, New Castle-Butler road, according to State Motor Policeman Poloskey. One person was injured.

According to the State Motor policeman, the truck and trailer transporting the butter and eggs was traveling east. A dump truck allegedly operated by Robert McGee, Portersville, R. D. 2, was following it. A truck and trailer, driven by H. C. Braden, New Castle, R. D. 6, was traveling in the opposite direction.

It was reported the dump truck tried to pass the truck and trailer carrying the butter and eggs in the middle of the bridge. The driver of this truck and also the truck and trailer carrying steel steered their vehicles off the road to escape a head-on crash. The truck with the butter and eggs got too far and upset.

The state motor policeman asserted he would today prefer a charge of executing an improper pass against McGee.

Eugene Woolfingen, 2500 Indiana Avenue, Chicago, a helper on the truck and trailer carrying the butter and eggs was injured and is in the Ellwood City hospital.

NOT QUITE CITIZENS

THE federal government's first job in registering and fingerprinting 3,600,000 aliens will be to complete the process of tabulation that is to go forward until December 26. When that has been accomplished the results will go to Washington, where the Alien Registration Bureau of the Department of Justice will examine and classify the results.

Anough has been revealed in the first few days of registration to suggest that this enterprise is going to turn up some interesting information. Surprisingly numerous are instances of voting by men and women who thought they were citizens on the basis of having taken out their first papers. Many such are reported as voting in perfectly good faith. Foreign-born children of parents subsequently naturalized have, in some instances, voted as a matter of course upon attaining their majority. New Jersey has turned up a voter of 28 years' standing, a former member of the National Guard, who is not a citizen.

How many others have been exercising the privileges of citizenship, as well as meeting some of its responsibilities, under a similar delusion?

A POSE BADLY TAKEN

President Roosevelt would do himself and the innocent bystanders a favor if he abandoned the pose of being so aloof from politics that any inquiry about his attitude toward policy or legislation is impertinent. Mr. Willkie asked him to state his position on that part of the selective service bill which would give to the president—any president—power to seize plants and facilities. Instead of committing himself, Mr. Roosevelt pleaded that an attempt was being made to involve him in a political discussion. It was not a political question in the smaller sense that was asked, but one relating to the vital issue of giving dictatorial powers to the executive. Mr. Willkie, who undoubtedly expects to be president after January 20 next, does not want such powers. When Mr. Roosevelt dodges the question it is fair to assume that he does wish these powers. * * *.—New York Sun.

CLOTHING AND FOOD

The Hitler government announces that it is now able to liberalize its distribution of clothing in Germany. It has supplies for this purpose, because the textile industries in France, Holland, Belgium and other neighboring countries "are now delivering to the German market."

The food situation in Germany is better, too, for the same reason.

Nothing is said about the terms of such delivery. But information from other sources says the Nazis are looting the countries taken over, of their food, clothing and other supplies, for the benefit of the conqueror.

It is the old principle, "to the victor belong the spoils." But it seems unusually rapacious in this case, because the despoiled countries have been bludgeoned and looted when they were minding their own business and giving no offense. The newly Hitlerized countries will be cold and hungry next winter.

UNIFORM STATE LAWS

The conflict of laws in the various states has been one of the reasons why the tendency toward centralization of power and authority has gone as far as it has. The invasion of state rights went on apace because the most loyal advocate of local self-government had to admit the vexation and confusion of facing forty-eight different laws on the same subject in forty-eight different jurisdictions.

The National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws has just completed a survey which shows that approximately 600 acts, designed to reduce conflicts in legislation are now on the statute books of the several states as the result of half a century of activity.

The conference is an official body, created by state enactment, and its task is to consider legislation uniformity. It drafts model bills, checks them with state and national bar associations, and finally endeavors to obtain their introduction in state legislatures.

Fifty subjects are affected by laws thus made uniform. Each of the "model" laws has been adopted by at least one state, while some of them have been enacted by 30 or more states. Many of the laws are for the purpose of facilitating business and trade, frequently hampered by statutory differences between one state and another.

The outstanding achievement has been the adoption of the Uniform Negotiable Instruments Act, which is now in force in all the states. This law, which governs commercial relations with respect to promissory notes and checks, also has been adopted in some of the South American countries and has served as a model in European countries.

Other uniform laws which have been widely adopted include the warehouse receipts act, which makes such receipts generally acceptable in business transactions. This has been adopted by 45 states. Other legislation includes: The sales act, which concerns transfer of title to personal property, by 32 states; the narcotic drug act, regulating the legitimate use of drugs, by 38 states, and the veterans' guardianship act, by 33 states.

A number of states have adopted uniform laws pertaining to desertion and non-support, illegitimacy, marriage evasion and execution of wills.

Fifty-three model bills are at present being recommended to state legislatures. Forty-three of these general assemblies meet in regular session next year. The conference has just announcd a new cooperative relationship with the Council of State Governments to further the cause of uniformity. The council, as a joint governmental agency concerned with reducing interstate friction, will aid the preparation and distribution of the uniform bills.

The maddest man in the United States—or anywhere else—last Tuesday was a Superior, Wis., resident who walked a mile to a gas station when his car ran out of gas, walked back with a gallon can of gas and poured it into a car that looked like his but wasn't.

If his opinion of preparedness would be the same if Willkie were President, it is a conviction. If not, it is a prejudice.

Fireside chats will be broadcast free because they aren't political speeches because radio people don't argue with the President.

It turned out that Holland deserved punishment. She had the gall to be too small and too rich and easy to reach.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CHILDREN CRAVE AFFECTION

A few children even at a late age, are smothered with motherlove. But these cases are relatively rare. Most babies and little children are starving for want of expression of affection from the mother and father.

Some twenty years ago, mothers were warned to leave the baby alone not to pick him up, not to fondle, cuddle or caress him and to handle him as little as possible. And, as for holding a tot on the lap, that was taboo. Then there appeared an orgy of writing and speaking by "child-experts" in which the child with a "mother fixation" was constantly described and given a dark, unhappy future, and pictured as the average child.

By and by most "intelligent mothers began to think themselves a menace to the youngster just because of their love for him. Desperately they began to keep themselves from showing him affection in order to save him from the damage they might do by being normal. And when a mother forgot herself and petted her baby or young child she was punished with a sense of guilt.

Grandmother Knew Better

Grandmother knew better. She fondled, kissed and cuddled her baby when she pleased. Nor did she hesitate to hold the toddler on her lap. She never spurned his show of affection nor was he denied hers. While in the midst of house work, if the baby or tot grew noticeably peevish or stubborn she dropped her work picked him up, held him on her lap, sang to him, told or read him stories or soothed him in some other way. Often this treatment was the very thing he needed. However, she was never too busy to spoil him with too much attention. Yet the little time she had was full of heart-expression, through which the youngster was reassured that he was wanted, worthy and secure.

Eminent psychiatrists like Dr. David Levy and Dr. Plant have recently been telling how important early cuddling experiences are in making for security.

In that recent splendid book, "Parents and Children Go To School" by Dorothy Walter Baruch Ph. D., (Scott, Forseman) we read:

"When a mother nurses her baby lovingly and quietly and peacefully, the baby is held close and gains a feeling of being warmly wanted and secure. In this case the mother does not need to think about giving her baby enough physical closeness; she automatically does it during the nursing periods. But many mothers today do not nurse their babies for any length of time during infancy. The babies do not have the nursing periods as a source of physical contact." Then she recommends for the bottle baby "at least one or two periods a day especially reserved for being held and fondled by his mother away from other people."

Many of the pathetic, listless or tense and unstable children, who arrive in the preschool have histories such as this. Inquiry brings to light that the mother has carefully guarded against cuddling and that she feels guilty over what cuddling she has done.

Let mothers with bottle fed babies hold these babies as they take the bottle. In a number of hospitals nurses are doing just this thing and with the purpose of providing the baby with some cuddling.

A list of books and pamphlets for expectant parents may be had by writing me at 235 East 45th St. New York City enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three cent stamp on it. Also a list of books and pamphlets on bringing up the baby and young child.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Would you encourage a child from six to twelve to memorize fine selections of poetry and prose?

A. Yes, indeed, including short selections from the Bible. It's no sin to remember things worth while. Some philosophers of education give one the impression that about the gravest sin is to remember anything or learn anything by heart.

Q. When should a baby's first tooth appear?

A. From about the sixth to the tenth month. If no teeth have appeared when the child is a year old, a baby specialist should be consulted; there is probably something wrong with the diet.

There was a man in our town and he was kind and wise; he found some good in everyone to other folks' surprise. His gentle voice was never raised in bitter condemnation. They said the man did everything no honest man should do, and left undone those other things; if half they said was true—the reason why he went to church was to cover up his sins: but they put him in the choir when they heard how he could sing. But one fine morning he was gone and with him went a horse belonging to the man who had defended him, of course. The people cried "I told you so," now what have you to say? Good Taste

U. S. Patent Office

Married life is ruined more by nagging than by flagrant acts of inconstancy. Many a pillar of the church who has never looked at another woman with more than the coldest indifference has wrecked the nerves of his devoted wife by repeated sarcasms. Many a paragon of wifely virtue has driven her husband to more amiable women by repeatedly digging at him, either facetiously or seriously. Such annoyances are especially resented when perpetrated in the presence of guests. And guests are not likely to repeat a visit to the home of a nagging husband or a nagging wife. It is the habit of some husbands and some wives to treat each other with perfect amiability when they are together but to gain courage for sniping each other only when visitors are with them.

Readers' Questions Answered

Question: I am a young married woman. I have two or three neighbors whom I frequently call on the telephone. We do not call one another by our Christian names. Should I announce myself as "Mrs. Jones" when I call?—Alice Jones.

Answer: Even though your acquaintance has not reached the first-name stage, you should announce yourself as "Alice Jones" and not "Mrs. Jones".

This does not give these neighbors the privilege of addressing you as "Alice". You are still "Mrs. Jones" to them until you ask them to call you by your first name.

Question: How should I sign my name on the back of an envelope to indicate the return address: "Mrs. John M. Smith" or "Sarah Smith"?

Answer: Write "Mrs. John M. Smith". This is not a signature, but a label.

Question: When one has received a wedding invitation, is it necessary for her to call upon the bride before the wedding?—A.

Answer: No. But after the bride has returned from her honeymoon, all those who attended the wedding should call upon her in her new home.

Lawmakers Eager To Adjourn Sessions
Seek Opportunity To Mend Some Fences
Would Welcome Any Kind Of Recess Now

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Congress is desperately anxious to adjourn pretty early in September in order to permit its members to get home, where they can electioneer more effectively for themselves during the remaining few weeks ahead of November 5, when the ballots will be cast.

Of course the representatives, on an average, are in a greater rush than the senators, because all of the former have campaigns on their hands, while only a third of the latter have terms just expiring this year. The others, holding over for from two to four years more, aren't so anxious. Still, they have a fellow feeling for their brethren, who are under the gun right now.

If the lawmakers can't out-and-out adjourn, at least they'd like to take a succession of little three-day recesses, giving them time to get away from the capitol more or less. It's a satisfactory enough arrangement for those who live nearby. Even those whose ballwicks are at a distance from Washington excuse themselves as absentees during the brief, perfunctory sessions which punctuate the main recessional period.

No more legislative business is transacted while a series of these short recesses is in progress than when the two Houses definitely are adjourned.

However, the public doesn't notice a mere recess. It's conscious of an adjournment, and there's a deal of sentiment to the effect that solons ought to be regularly on the job at as critical a world juncture as the present one. Indeed, they've been warned, in plenty of mail from their constituents and in numerous newspaper editorials, that they'll be considered derelict in their duties if they scatter, to attend to their political fences at such a time.

Always A Pest

The White House always considers congress a pest.

I don't believe there ever was a president who didn't think he could manage his policies better without Capitol Hill butting in with advice and criticism.

The executive mansion normally looks forward with dread to the opening of a regular legislative session and greets its adjournment with relief. Occasionally it has to summon an extra assemblage in an emergency, but it invariably is with regret.

The Tide Seems Unchecked

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.

IN several ways this Presidential campaign differs from any other in the whole history of the United States. It is, of course, the first time any twice-elected President has forced a third nomination and sought a third term. That in itself makes it without parallel. But there are other distinctive features.

FOR example, there is the singular fact that one party—the New Dealers—deliberately abandoning all domestic issues, depends wholly upon the situation in Europe to swing it to success. No other campaign has been so based. On the other hand, reliance of the opposition is almost entirely on the fact that public sentiment, after running in one way for eight years, turned in 1938 and is now running strongly in the other direction. The big question is whether the problems created for this country by the war in Europe can be used to nullify and halt the undoubted shift of public opinion from radical to conservative. In other words, are the people sufficiently alarmed by the Nazi threat to forget their distaste for the New Deal, manifested in the election two years ago, and accept the doctrine of "The Indispensable Man" upon which Mr. Roosevelt rests his third-term candidacy?

BEFORE the collapse of France there was considerable evidence that the people as a whole had begun to weary of the glittering New Deal philosophy and were slightly fed up with the whole Roosevelt family. But the prospect that England might go the way of France, and thus the conquering Hitler become a real menace to us, has forced this nation into appropriating ten billions of dollars for a gigantic defense program and given Mr. Roosevelt his opportunity to play a new role. The New Dealers think that once more he will be able to kindle and capture the imagination of the people. The belief of the anti-New Dealers is that notwithstanding the war and the obscuring of all domestic issues, which permits the President to pose as uninterested in his own campaign and concerned solely with grave international affairs—notwithstanding all that, they believe the tide is still running in their direction.

SINCE 1938 every primary and every by-election had sustained that theory about the tide. Without exception, these had shown an increase in Republican strength and a shrinkage in New Deal votes. Among the twelve tests recorded by the two party committees, there was not a single one out of line. But all these tests had occurred before the collapse of France. The only one that has taken place since that catastrophe—and since the "draft" in Chicago—was the California primaries of last week. For that reason the results in that State seem to warrant a good deal more attention than they got at the time.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

REAL HORSE RACES

Man has ever loved a horse race. There has always been much affection shown by man for horses, and the horse has always been a very faithful friend of man. It cannot however be said that the English speaking people are any crazier about racing horses than any other people.

In the early Colonial days, horse racing was a fad upon which the Puritans frowned, but the colonists of Maryland, Virginia and the Carolinas did a great deal of horse racing; particularly, cross country racing. The standard race of the Cavaliers was a four-mile race over fences, walls, ditches and plowed fields. The owner or some member of his family were always supposed to ride their own horses in these races and when 132 pounds is regarded as top weight of a horse running on a track at a distance of a mile and one-quarter, some idea of the stamina of the Cavaliers' horses can be understood. They often had to carry 180 pounds and never faltered over ditch, fence or wall. There is a stirring Picture now being shown in the Motion Picture Houses entitled "Maryland," in which such a race is run.

In the old California days, the Spanish Dons were just as keen as the English concerning horse racing, perhaps more so. California's first international horse race was a nine-mile race. The race was not a cross country race. It was a race down what is now San Pedro Street. It was a race between Jose Sepulveda's "Black Swan" and Pio Pico's "Sareo." Sepulveda had imported "Black Swan" from Australia to defeat "Sareo", which was California's favorite horse. Part of "Black Swan's" training was conducted on the five hundred mile trip from the boat bringing "Black Swan" to California, docking at San Francisco, down to Los Angeles. "Black Swan" was ridden this five hundred miles from San Francisco to Los Angeles.

Every Don, peon and pioneer within one hundred miles of Los Angeles came to the race. Rich and ragamuffin alike bet all they had on the outcome. The Sepulvedas themselves are said to have bet 1500 horses, 1000 cows and 500 sheep on the event and "Black Swan" won.

Such horse races were horse races!

Just Folks

GRANDPOP

I once was just the father with a lot of silly ways,
A strange old-fashioned fellow living still his yesterdays,
A dear old stubborn darling who beyond the slightest doubt
Had forgotten, if he'd ever known, what life is all about.
But at last I've been promoted, with the gray upon my brow,
I'm once more a useful person and I'm known as "Grandpop" now.

As a father I was fussy and at times a dear old grouch,
A man who spent his evenings loudly snoring on the couch.
I was wrong in my opinions, Mine was not a skillful hand
And what mother saw to marry they could never understand.
But at last a higher rating unto me they all allow,
I have gained some real importance and I'm known as "grandpop" now.

I may ride him on my shoulder, I may take him walking, too
I am left to mind the baby all his happy playtime through;
I may travel till I'm breathless, up and down and round the place,
And the women sound my praises for maintaining such a pace!
When it comes to playing "gee-gee" I'm a whiz-bang and a wow!
I'm the family's faithful work-horse and I'm known as "grandpop" now.

Words Of Wisdom

Marriage is the strictest tie of perpetual friendship, and there can be no friendship without confidence, and no confidence without integrity, and he must expect to be wretched, who pays to beauty, riches or politeness that regard which only virtue and piety can claim.—Johnson.

The Great Game Of Politics

UNQUESTIONABLY they are encouraging to the anti-New Deal side and discouraging to the third-termers. To appreciate their importance, it should be recalled, first, that Senator Hiram Johnson, though a Republican, strongly supported Mr. Roosevelt eight years ago and four years ago. And six years ago, when Senator Johnson was a candidate for re-election, Mr. Roosevelt enthusiastically supported him, referring to him publicly as "that great liberal statesman." But since 1937 Senator Johnson has become disillusioned as to the soundness of the New Deal and distrustful of Mr. Roosevelt personally. And a month ago he came out in favor of the election of Mr. Willkie.

PROMPTLY Mr. Roosevelt denounced him as no longer a liberal. At one of his press conferences he spoke in disparaging terms of Mr. Johnson, and very soon afterward the full weight of the Administration was thrown behind the candidacy of a Mr. Ford for the Democratic Senatorial nomination. The result is interesting. In the Republican primaries, where he had no real opposition, Senator Johnson polled 578,000 votes, as against 50,000, 45,000 and 32,000, respectively, for three other Republican candidates. But Senator Johnson also went into the Democratic primaries. And there he polled 480,000 votes as against 194,000 for Mr. Patterson, who had tried to go to the Chicago Convention as an anti-third term delegate, and 168,000 for Mr. Ford, the Roosevelt third-termer and Administration favorite. Other minor candidates got a total of approximately 110,000.

IN brief, Senator Johnson, a Republican, denounced by the President, after sweeping his own primaries by a six-to-one vote, got more votes in the Democratic primaries than all the Democrats combined and three times as many as the candidate favored by Mr. Roosevelt. Calmly considered, these figures are impressive. If they mean anything, they mean that in California the anti-New Deal tide is running strongly. It seems not to have been checked by either the war in Europe or the third-term nomination of Mr. Roosevelt. They mean, too, that the effort to "purge" Senator Johnson was an ignominious failure. In this connection, it is being recalled that in 1916 it was the influence of Hiram Johnson that turned California from Charles Evans Hughes and elected Woodrow Wilson President.

What's What At A Glance

remarked that he can call an "extra," whenever he deems it necessary. The implication is that the country needn't worry a bit if the government's legislative branch does scatter for awhile—he'll bring it together again in short order if he sees fit. Congress is jealous, though. It wants to be out electioneering, to be sure. Yet it's afraid he'll steal some sort of a march on it while it's gone from Washington.

Oh, congress is as suspicious of the president as he is of congress. They're rivals of a sort, under our political system.

Senators And Representatives

Practically all representatives want to get out in the sticks and electioneer for themselves. There may be a few exceptions — chaps who are confident their districts are dependable for themselves. But the overwhelming majority aren't overly sure.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana is one, outstandingly.

Burt is conspicuous in the upper congressional chamber. Anything he says there is as widely quoted out in Montana as if he's said it right there. And it has repercussions, from the floor of the senate, wider than it would have if he said it only locally. Montana gets it as much as it would were he addressing himself directly to his own state's voters. And it has additional punch because he says it to the whole nation. Burt's a good deal of an anti-administrationist. That's an essential reason why the administration would like to have him adjourn.

Representatives speaking in Washington, don't score with the emphasis that senators do. They're so numerous that they drown one another out individually. A representative has to be a wonder to get himself much into print or onto the radio. That's why they're so anxious to get home and see their respective crowds at short range..

Comment on efficiency! Hitler built broad highways that serve as landing fields; we have only a few scattered fields where our big war planes could land.

In the presence of friends and relatives, vows were exchanged with Rev. Fr. Sakelaridis of Pittsburgh, officiating and using the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Spero, was attired in a creme satin gown, with square neckline and leg-o-mutton sleeves. Her long veil was caught with a Juliet cap and she carried calla lilies. Her only jewelry was a gold cross.

Ushering were: Nick Lucas, Peter Mandros, Gus Contis and Gus Condas. Christina Krelis and Marina Marakas were the flower girls and Charles Balali was the ring bearer.

In the evening, a reception was held at The Castleton, for guests numbering 150. Later the young couple departed on an eastern wedding trip. For traveling the bride chose a navy blue and white ensemble with an orchid shoulder corsage.

Americanism: Setting up a national commission to protect us from stock jobbers; making no effort to clean out gamblers who take down $500,000,000 a year.

We wouldn't be suspicious of a loyal neighbor, but how come Mexico needs so much extra lubricating oil just when Japan and the Fascists are running short?

A grain ship docked in Ireland with 100,000,000 francs in sacks among the grain, and nobody claimed ownership. Well, well; we wondered where we dropped it.

Westminster To Launch Marriage Relations' Course

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON Sept. 6.—Responding to almost unanimous student-opinion, Westminster college will inaugurate its first "Marriage Relations" course this year, under the direction of Dr. Donald Matthews, department of biology. Only seniors will be eligible to take the course, which will be a combination of lectures and open-discussion sessions.

Problems to be taken up in the new course include history of the family, psychological adjustment to marriage, the "courting period," the question of "who should marry?", laws of divorce, economics of marriage, home-economics of married life, and implications of the marriage vows.

Students will be expected to read widely from reading lists on various marital problems. Field-trips will include one journey to court to see a "divorce trial" in session.

Seven Westminster faculty members will serve as weekly lecturers, in addition to Mrs. P. C. Hawkins, social service authority from Cleveland, O.

Faculty lecturers will be Dr. Gilbert Taylor, Dr. Bingham Duncan, Prof. William Reuter, Mr. Thomas V. Mansell, Prof. Ross Ellis, Prof. H. C. Graebner, Dr. Donald Matthews, Pres. R. F. Galbreath, and Mrs. Hawkins. President Galbreath will lecture on "The Marriage Vows."

Other people provide and support your freedom, for you couldn't do it alone. The proof of your right to freedom is your willingness to defend that of others.

AROUND CITY HALL

When council met Thursday in city building members authorized a change in the method of collecting delinquent taxes and payments on municipal liens. According to the resolution introduced by Finance Director James L. Fink and adopted unanimously, Paul Marakas, delinquent tax collector, will now be paid five per cent on all taxes collected by him or payments on municipal liens collected when the taxes or municipal liens so collected, have been in the hands of the solicitor for three years or more and he shall receive a commission of three per cent on taxes or liens collected by him which have been in the hands of the solicitor for less than three years. According to the resolution the solicitor from time to time, may direct him to collect any taxes or municipal liens more than two years old. Council also has this privilege.

There is now in the printing office a bill which provides for the ordaining, establishing and fixing of the width and grade of Wolf street between Walls street and Florence avenue. Council in city hall session Thursday indicated that when the measure is printed, it will be reported favorably from committee and adopted later.

Council will view property reputedly owned by Claude Allen, at Edgewood and Delaware avenues, and also a property owned, report asserts, by George Wolfe at 222-224 Weaver street, September 25, for the purpose of determining if the properties are as claimed, nuisances. The decision was reached during council's meeting today in the municipal building.

Safety Director D. O. Davies' motion presented to council Thursday in city hall, and which was adopted, authorizes the city solicitor to prepare an ordinance establishing a street between South Mercer street and South Croton avenue and which also will designate a place for a proposed bridge across the Neshannock creek.

Residents of Greenwood avenue and West Washington street vicinity petitioned council in session in city hall Thursday to erect a traffic light at Greenwood avenue and West Washington street. Council instructed the traffic division of the police department to study the situation, report and make a recommendation to council in the near future.

Police department receipts for the month of August totalled $716.75, which is less than the parking meters show for a 10 days period. . . . Two hundred and sixty-four arrests were made by city police last month, 151 persons paid fines and costs, and four failed to claim forfeits. Eighty-two were discharged, nine others jailed, 11 given into aldermanic custody, one case is yet pending and the others either were banned from the city, sent to institutions or given into custody of relatives.

Finance Director James L. Fink, during council meeting in city hall today, called colleagues' attention to a newspaper report from Uniontown which stated that section is on the verge of a rebellion concerning the state's 50-cent per week compensation insurance on each relief worker employed by townships. Indignation meetings there are proposed. The supervisors claim the new cost is five or six times the former one. Fink stated that the 50-cent per week compensation insurance on each relief worker affects this city. Up to July the city paid insurance on the earnings of the relief workers, he stated. It is not known what move council will make.

The old gibe can be reversed now. France will fight to the last Englishman.

Note on Fascist veracity: Italian papers say Italy has no interest in the Americas; Italian radio urges Italians in Brazil to unite and help the fatherland.

It's easy to pick out patriots now. Just show them a picture of our soldiers training was gas-pipe tank guns and note whether they blush with shame.

Japanese officials say this is not the time to break relations with England. No, the defeat of England isn't certain yet.

Babson Gives Views Of Country After Tour Including 25 States

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright—1940—Publishers Financial Bureau

BABSON PARK, Mass., Sept. 6.—Let me pass on to you a bird's-eye view of the United States. This is based upon the trip from I have just returned. It was a great trip—4,000 miles by automobile from Boston to San Francisco, returning by train from Los Angeles. I covered nearly 25 states, addressed 18 Chambers of Commerce and other big gatherings, gave radio broadcasts, and—most important of all—talked with the publishers of scores of important papers.

BABSON

How's Business?

Speaking frankly, business is "so-so" about everywhere. It is what farmers would say—"neither hay nor grass". Retail trade is holding up well and manufacturers are hopeful; but peace industries are playing safe while the war industries have only partly got under way. I believe, however, that December 31 will justify my favorable forecast for the second six months and—in fact—my forecast for the entire year 1940.

I was especially interested in visiting the airplane factories. Notwithstanding all the newspaper talk, I understand that the United States and Canada combined are now sending about ten planes a day to Great Britain. Perhaps only one or two of these will be bombers. Guns and ammunition are being manufactured in quantities, but the "heavy armaments" are still in the blueprint stage. Very few people realize the many months required in planning and tooling for assembly line production of a ship or tank, or for almost anything else.

Labor Conditions

I have heard of very little labor unrest. It looks as if labor troubles had seen their peak for this cycle. Apparently neither of the two major political parties wants the support of John L. Lewis. They both look upon him as a possible liability rather than an asset. Neither labor leaders nor wage workers want to be classed as "fifth columnists". Employers also are being more reasonable. As younger employers take the place of the old "die-hards", a better relation between capital and labor is very noticeable.

It is evident that employers, executives and foremen are attending to business more this summer than for many years. This has reacted upon the tourist industry. Everywhere were complaints that people are taking shorter vacations this summer. Yet, the managers of both the New York and San Francisco Fairs and the National Parks say that attendance is greater than they expected and appear much pleased. This means that the masses are taking vacations this year—more people, but less money spent.

Investment Outlook

I will not say that investors have the jitters; but they surely have some disease—perhaps sleeping sickness! Transactions on the New York Stock Exchange one day recently dropped to 130,000 shares, the lowest for nearly 25 years. Brokers show how the London Stock Exchange—even while being bombed—is steadier and more active than ours. They, however, do not tell you that the London Exchange may be pegged by the government and—if the war continues long enough—the British government will have bought a majority of the shares of most of the British corporations.

Of course, the New York Stock Exchange figures do not tell the whole story. A vast amount of "over-the-counter" and private sale business is being carried on. Every day the United States and Canadian public are becoming more and more the owners of America's industries. Besides, as a rule, when New York Stock Exchange transactions are very low it is a good time to buy securities, commodities and land. I am returning from my trip bullish on carefully-selected stocks and productive Canadian real estate, whoever is elected in November!

Attitude Toward War

Well, I must tell you the truth about my attitude toward war. In all my addresses, I would at some point insist that the United States should not let England be destroyed. I explained that the British navy would never desert the Island. Hence, if we should let Hitler overrun England, we would lose the British navy, upon which our safety depends. Hence, for selfish reasons—to say nothing of moral reasons—we should come to the rescue of Great Britain on November 6 at the very latest.

When I made the above statement in New England, the audience applauded before I got it out of my mouth. In San Francisco and Los Angeles, however, I had to ask for applause! They were all for going over and licking Japan. Some group—whether politicians or military men, I do not know—had told these people that on account of Germany's careful advance preparations and vastly superior air force, England is beyond help. They forget that while airplanes may win battles, character wins wars! The English have vastly superior character—and we should not forget the ultimate power of the blockade.

A Closing Thought

This brings me to the thing that bothered me most about the trip. It was this: Too many people talk only money, crops, wages, profits and other things of temporary value. In fact, by the time I was at Los Angeles ready to take the train home, I was very unhappy and wondering how it all would end. But that last night something happened. I was taken to a most wonderful pageant of the life of Christ called "The Pilgrimage Play". This answered all my questions and removed all my doubts. It seems as if God led me to see this on my last night of a long and solemn trip.

War Relief Society Meets At Y.W.C.A.

Medical Supply Group To Meet Each Wednesday Evening In "Y" Headquarters

On Wednesday night in the rooms provided by the Y. W. C. A. in their building, the medical supply group of the British War Relief Society, Inc., was organized. An instructor of the society from headquarters in Pittsburgh was at the meeting to provide the necessary advice and course of instruction in the making of bandages for war relief work.

The Lawrence County Unit of the British War Relief society has been advised that extreme care has to be used in the making of these medical supplies for they not only have to conform to official specifications but also to rigid rules concerning the conditions under which they are prepared and completed as well as a thorough inspection of completed material in New York before shipment to England.

Materials are furnished by the society and are available only at the Y. W. C. A. work room, where this type of work must be performed since material is not permitted to be removed to individual homes. It is planned to continue these meetings each Wednesday evening at the headquarters now set up in the Y. W. C. A. with Mrs. Jane Lewis of Wildwood avenue, as chairman of this group.

The knitting of woolen garments for the army, navy and Royal Air Force is under the supervision of Mrs. D. W. Thomas, 328 Long avenue, and meets each first and third Friday evening in the First Congregational church, Reynolds street. Material for this activity is available at this meeting and may be taken home for completion. All materials are provided free of charge, the wool having been purchased in the United States by the voluntary contributions of subscribing members of the society.

We should draft capital, too, says Fosdick, if we conscript soldiers. Did you ever pay any taxes, Doctor? And was your money conscripted, or did you volunteer it?

Some big-shot Democrats wouldn't mind seeing the Republicans win. As they see it, the next four years will wreck any party that is held responsible.

Another thing you can say for dictators: When they develop a better weapon, they don't call in reporters and give the news to their enemies.

Lawrence Auto Sales Company Will Show New Models During Coming Week

Announcement is made today by the Lawrence Auto Sales Company, corner of South street and South Mercer street, that the advance showing of 1941 Buicks will open Saturday, and will continue through the week of September 7 to 14.

On Sunday, the sales rooms will be open for the reception of visitors between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m.

Noted for building fine motor cars down through the years, the 1941 Buick is termed by Buick Motor Division of General Motors, as the "Best Buick Yet." And those who visit the Lawrence Auto Sales rooms during the coming week will approve this designation.

New features which those interested in fine automobiles will find in the 1941 Buick models, are Buick "fireball" valve-in-head engines, giving higher compression and better combustion; micropoise balancing, reducing vibration to an absolute minimum; coil springs all the way around, eliminating lubrication and spring covers; "mass-stream" bodies, bigger and roomier, with concealed running boards and hidden door hinges; compound carburetion, a twin-barrel carburetor which cuts in when needed; permi-frim steering, freedom from steering wheel play due to usage; durex main bearings, practically indestructible in normal service; Fore-N-Aft direction signal; massive bumpers, with four heavy bumper guards and new gavel guards; plus all of last year's new developments which have been improved in the past 12 months.

Five different lines of Buicks are being produced in 1941, the Special, the Super, the Century, the Roadmaster, and the Limited, 26 new Buicks in all with a total of 210 models.

Robert Strickler, R. L. Hildebrand, Mrs. Charles T. Metzler, and Paul D. Weller, will make short addresses on behalf of the various organizations of the church. Mrs. R. E. Elmore is chairlady of the arrangements.

SONS OF ITALY TO HAVE SUPPER

Members and friends of the Sons of Italy lodge will attend a "sofrito" supper to be given by the lodge Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the club rooms, South Mill street.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

CLEANLINESS HABITS AT SCHOOL

A school inspector who comes up to see the quintuplets periodically, has some timely advice for parents. He suggests that a mother is wise to go to school after her child begins to get acquainted with the teacher and learn what she can do to cooperate to the child's best interest.

I also think the child should meet the teacher before school begins. The youngter of six, when he enters school, is little more than a baby. He is easily frightened.

I know children who have been frightened to go to school that first day because other children had maliciously told tales about strappings and whippings by the teacher. A pre-school visit and pleasant meeting with the teacher will rid him of such fears.

The inspector attaches a great deal of importance to the way the child is introduced at school the first day. He thinks it is a good idea for the mother to accompany the child to school for the first time. After a brief chat with the teacher, then she should withdraw. The child's trust in his mother assures him that she would not place him in a harmful situation.

While the child is in this frame of mind, then a wise teacher will know how to draw him gradually into the circle of pupils. When you have this situation properly solved, then you have a happy child who will like school, and do well in it. If that first encounter with school is bitter, or unhappy, the reverse often is true.

One thing that quite often starts children off wrong at school is the fact that habits of elimination have not been adjusted to school. The result is an embarrassing accident the first or second or third day. The child is ashamed and the laughter and giggles of fellow class mates crush him. I knew one youngster who disgraced himself this way in school, and it was days before they could get him back to school again.

Parents should start to train the child long before he starts to school, to evacuate immediately before or after breakfast. Teachers have told me that lack of parental training of children in this particular causes them a lot of trouble with new pupils, and it is a trouble that could be so easily avoided.

Tomorrow: The Quins Go to School.

Joint Meeting In College Town

Sabbath School Leaders Meet In New Wilmington U. P. Church

There was a joint meeting of the executive committees of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association and the New Wilmington district held at the United Presbyterian church, New Wilmington, on Thursday evening with the following members present: Robert M. Strickler, Jr., E. B. Reed, Mrs. H. F. Magill, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lusk, Rev. R. E. Douglass, Miss Ruth Seley, Mrs. B. V. Carter and Mr Eagleson.

Plans were made for having the quota of five delegates to the state convention at Wilkes-Barre from Wilmington district, and Mrs. B. V. Carter was appointed to represent the district. It is thought that the Young People's Council, as well as the Sunday schools of the district, will send delegates.

There was a discussion as to holding an adult conference to combat Sunday movies in New Castle.

It was also announced that there would be a regional conference on week day religious education held at the Highland U. P. church, New Castle, Thursday, October 31. Dr. C. A. Hauser, the state superintendent of week day religious education, will be one of the speakers as well as others of the state staff.

For '41—Finest We've Done!

WITH this advertisement, Buick ushers in a brand-new automobile model year.

1940 production is history—recording the greatest manufacturing and selling season our company has ever known.

You may be sure we grimly realized we had to accomplish things in our new cars for 1941 that we could count on to continue our advance.

So we've taken our greatest all-time car and steadily and carefully brought it forward to a perfection of action, ease, goodness beyond anything ever offered under our name.

Every car in all five series of the whole new line deserves unused fresh-minted language.

Stylewise, their suave and dynamic beauty refreshes the jaded eye as would sight of a hydrant in the desert.

They move and function like young wild things. They're all grace and poise and eagerness. They bring to driving and handling a keener pleasure and a new thrill.

Go see these superb new cars at your dealer's and ask especially about the new micropoise-balanced FIREBALL engines—the 1941 furtherance of Buick's Dynaflash design and kingpin of all the features that make Buick the sensation of the new automobile year.

THE FIREBALL* DOES IT!

Modern gasolines have high octane ratings to permit higher compressions without "ping." Note how this piston, which can be used only in valve-in-head engines, rolls the fuel charge into the shape of a flattened ball that centers around the new, smaller, racing-car type spark plug. Fired at its very heart, this more highly compressed fuel lets go with such full-forced, "ping-free" wallop that any gasoline of 75 octane rating (now available at standard-fuel prices) may be used in the 115-hp. engine. Any fuel of 80 octane rating serves in the 125- and 165-hp. engines.

*According to the Encyclopaedia Britannica, a super meteor which travels with a series of explosions like the shock waves of a great projectile is called a "FIREBALL."

South American Countries Can Use New Naval Bases

United States Will Allow Western Hemisphere Countries Access To Bases

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—In another move to perfect western hemisphere defense, Secretary of State Cordell Hull today disclosed that the naval units of all Latin-American nations will be granted access to the new air and naval bases which the United States will construct on British possessions.

Hull emphasized that the United States is doing everything in its power to cooperate with her neighbors in Latin-America and indicated that any vessels from the 20 other western hemisphere republics would be permitted to utilize the newly acquired air and naval facilities.

The combined strength of Latin-American navies approximates 100 ships ranging from small battleships down to river gun boats.

Both Parties Claim State

Republicans And Democrats Far Apart On Forecasts For Election

By EVERETT GERRY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Sept. 6.—Democrats and Republicans were at least a million votes apart today in forecasting the probable winner of the Roosevelt-Willkie contest in Pennsylvania next November.

State Democratic Chairman Meredith Meyers, pointing to a canvass by precincts, predicted the state would give President Roosevelt at least as large a majority as in 1936, when he won over Alf Landon by 600,000 votes.

Republican National Committeeman C. Mason Owlett, one of three Pennsylvania political chieftains who met yesterday with Wendell L. Willkie, predicted a 500,000 majority for the Republican ticket in this state.

National Committeewoman Marjory M. Scranton and State Chairman James F. Torrance also conferred at Willkie's Rushville, Ind., headquarters, in an effort to iron out Pennsylvania's political problems.

Republicans were encouraged by the promise of former state Senator Frank J. Harris, Allegheny county, a Willkie booster, to work for the "entire Republican ticket." Harris and William H. Harman, head of the Willkie club movement, were invited to join the nominee's round table discussion at Rushville today.

County Democratic leaders plunged into campaign preparations after a day of conferences and a pre-campaign dinner at Harrisburg, where they were greeted by U. S. Sen. Joseph F. Guffey, State Chairman Meyers, and State Campaign Chairman Dr. Luther A. Harr.

"Senator Nye opposes it." Thank Goodness for that. Lacking information, we weren't sure about it; and now we know it must be all right.

Resignations From National Guard Small In State

Pennsylvania Situation Is In Marked Contrast To That Of Other States

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Sept. 6—In marked contrast to the situation prevailing in other states, no unusual increase in resignations of officers and enlisted men is expected in the ranks of the Pennsylvania National Guard, it was stated today.

With the entire force of some 14,000 officers and men expected to be mustered into active service in the U. S. Army before the end of the year, fears had been felt lest the effectiveness of the group be impaired by numerous resignations such as have occurred in other states.

"There has been no noticeable increase in resignations among either officers or enlisted men," the adjutant general's office stated. An officer there expressed surprise that there had not been more.

Under the law authorizing the immediate mobilization of the National Guard, enlisted men and officers under the rank of captain may apply within 20 days for exemption and ask to be discharged on the grounds of having dependents to support or because of employment in essential defense industries.

As yet only the 213th Coast Artillery, an anti-aircraft unit stationed at Allentown, has been ordered mobilized, effective September 16, among the Pennsylvania Guard, but no great turnover in personnel is expected upon the induction into active service of the entire guard.

Business Figures Show Increase

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 6.—Another "substantial" increase in business activity in the Pittsburgh district last week was reported today by the Bureau of Business Research, University of Pittsburgh.

The bureau's general business index last week stood at 126 per cent of the 1923-25 level and seven per cent above the average 1929 level, and is now only seven points from the all-time high recorded last November.

Gains were reported in ingot and rolled steel output, especially in pipe, strip, plates and structural steel, while a seasonal contraction was reported in the tin plate production. Coal production last week declined counter-seasonally, the bureau stated, as did coal carloadings and river traffic.

Humanitarians say we must get food past "the blockade." Which one do they mean? There is a blockade of Europe and a blockade of England.

Inviting Others To Worship God

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Sept. 8 is Psalms 67, 96 and 98, the Golden Text being Psalm 34:3. "O magnify Jehovah with me, and let us exalt His name together.")

"GOD BE merciful to us, and bless us; and cause His face to shine upon us," is the beginning of Psalm 67, which is the first part of our lesson today. It continues: "That Thy way may be known upon earth, Thy saving health among all nations."

We need God's mercy and His blessing to make us happy in this life. We do not always do what is right and so we need His mercy. His blessing is necessarily to our spiritual health, and even to our physical well-being, because sometimes it is our own fault that we become ill. Right thinking and right living may not always save us from sickness, but they have an immense influence over us—more than we realize.

The rest of Psalm 67 is a song of praise to our Maker, "Let all the people praise Thee, O God; let all the people praise Thee.

"O let the nations be glad and sing for joy; for Thou shalt judge the people righteously, and govern the nations upon earth."

Psalms 96 and 98 continue the song of praise, both commencing: "O sing unto the Lord a new song." Psalm 96 declares His glory among the heathen, His wonders among all people.

"For the Lord is to be feared among all gods." All other gods that are worshipped are idols, the psalmist declares. "But the Lord made the heavens."

"O worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness: fear before Him all the earth.

"Say before the heathen that the Lord reigneth: the world also shall be established that it shall not be moved: He shall judge the people righteously.

Faith Needed

In the turmoil of the present world, when nation makes war on nation and no one seems safe, we are inclined to think that the truths in which we used to believe—kindness, mery, justice, honor—are all going to be swept away—in fact, largely have gone. But it is not so. Truth and justice will prevail in the end. Brute force cannot win eventually. The Lord reigneth and shall judge the people righteously. We must have faith and it will come about.

Therefore—

"Let the heavens rejoice, and let the earth be glad; let the sea roar, and the fullness thereof.

"Let the field be joyful, and all that is therein: then shall all the trees of the wood rejoice."

In the 98th Psalm we are told to "make a joyful noise unto the Lord."

"Sing unto the Lord with the harp; with the harp, and the voice of the psalm.

"With trumpets and sound of cornet make a joyful noise before the Lord, the King."

In this psalm it is said that the Hebrew word "trumpet" is used for the only time in the book of pslams. Trumpets were usually used only by the priests, especially in the early periods of Jewish history. Later they seem to have been used also by the Levites and even by the people, also cornets, also mentioned in this psalm. They were used principally at the proclamation and coronation of kings

It is thought that these psalms were written later than the time of David, but we have not sufficient data for determining just when they were written. They were used, for the most part, in the choral singing in the temple.

Many people in the world today are fearful of what is to come. We cannot know what is in store for us. We can, however, keep our minds open to truth; we can practice those virtues which seem so lacking in every part of the world. We can be loving, kind to all, doing what we can to alleviate suffering and to treat all men as brothers. And for our good, and that of a suffering world let us

"Sing unto the Lord a new song." Let us put behind us our worries and fears, our hatreds and strifes, and have faith that as it has been in the past, right will triumph and the wicked shall be put down. For "Jehovah cometh to judge the earth: He will judge the world with righteousness, and the peoples with His truth."

Senators are representatives, too; but when their behavior doesn't make sense, you can't help wondering what they represent.

With party lives so fixed, you forget which party a candidate is in till you notice which speaker he scornfully ignores.

Hear the old guy growl at sight of a "boy-chasing" pretty girl? He is thinking what he missed because girls weren't like that in his time.

Garner Continues Capital Absence

Vice President Remains Away From Senate During Present Activities

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—With administration leaders hoping to adjourn congress by September 21, friends of Vice President John Nance Garner today predicted he will return to the capitol to bang the closing gavel in the senate.

The absence of Garner from the Washington scene during passage of highly important legislation has been a political mystery. Friends of the vice president say his self-imposed exile reflects his personal opposition to many of President Roosevelt's policies and his unalterable abhorrence for the president's third-term effort. New Dealers say he is piqued because he failed to win the Democratic presidential nomination.

Garner left Washington July 22 for a vacation at his Uvalde Tex., home under circumstances indicating a protest against the president's acceptance of the third term renomination. Just before boarding his train, he was asked whether he planned to remain in Texas for the rest of the summer and he snapped this reply:

"I'll reserve my decision on that. I have a leader who waits until the last minute to make up his mind."

WAMPUM CHILD IS INJURED AT PLAY

Janet Mary Clark, aged 4 years, of R. F. D. No. 1, Wampum, was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital at 8:50 p. m. Thursday for treatment. The child was run over by a toy wagon, and sustained a possible fracture of the arm.

Americanism: Possessing the world's largest supply of beryllium, essential in building planes; permitting German firms to control and retard development of it.

As a final appeal to patriotism, they might try offering volunteers $200 a month.

MORE PA. RESIDENTS FIND RELIEF IN RETONGA

Mr. Evan A. Boltz, Well Known Wilkinsburg Home Owner, Among Latest To Relate His Happy Experience With It.

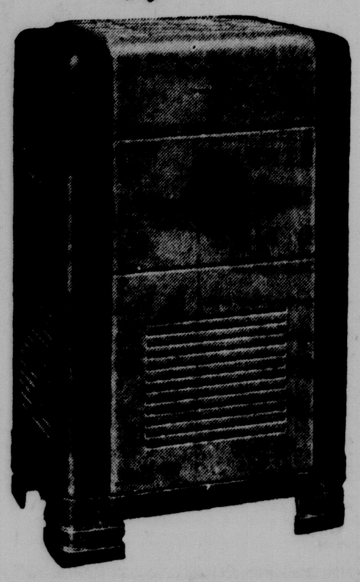

More happy and grateful praise of Retonga is heard as well known men and women come forward and tell of the relief brought them by this purely herbal gastric tonic. Mr. Evan A. Boltz, for twenty-five years a valued employee of the Westinghouse Air Brake Company, who has owned his own home at 1215 Rebecca Ave., Wilkinsburg, for the past 27 years, came forward with this gratifying experience:

"Loss of appetite and sluggish elimination gave me little peace," declares Mr Boltz. "I didn't want to eat and every bite I swallowed seemed to turn against me. I felt full of acid and toxic poisons from constipation, and often I felt so stiff and sore I could hardly get up from a chair. I took strong laxatives every night for years and I felt weak and miserable practically all the time.

"Retonga brought me more and quicker relief than anything I ever took. I have a fine appetite, I enjoy every meal, and since Retonga relieved that terrible constipation I don't feel any more pains or aches. I am glad to tell all my friends that Retonga beats any medicine I ever tried."

Retonga is intended to increase the flow of gastric juices in the stomach and gently aid nature in removing toxic wastes from the bowels. Get genuine Retonga today at Eckerd's Drug Store.

Groundhog Adopts Garage On Walnut Street As Home

You can add this chapter to one of the Leatherstocking Series. Not even James Fenimore Cooper could tie this one and it's true.

Up on North Walnut street there is a groundhog that has gone city-fied. Instead of digging himself a hole out in the woods he adopted the garage of T. Wilber McCullough as his home and proceeded to occupy a suite under the garage floor.

That in itself was all right except that the groundhog developed a yen for the neighbors' gardens. Tomatoes, corn, and the rest of the small vegetables fell prey to his razor like teeth and the neighbors have been heard muttering in their beards about action.

McCullough asked Sergeant Wayne Sines of the police force if he could shoot the groundhog, but this was frowned upon. After all you can't go around shooting groundhogs in the city.

"But here's an idea," said Sines. "I'll come up and knock him off with my bow and arrow." Sines by the way is the modern version of the "Deerslayer."

So the sergeant girds himself with his bow and arrow or however you transport the things and settled down behind a row of lilacs to wait Mr. Groundhog's coming out. He did and Sines let fly. The shot was over. The groundhog ducked.

Out he came again and Sines let go again. This time the shot was under. The groundhog ducked again.

The third time the groundhog came out and Sines put an arrow close enough to trim his whiskers. The groundhog ducked again. That is three ducks, enough to feed a large family. Especially with some applesauce.

But the groundhog is still alive, still pestering the neighbors and McCullough wants to know what can be done, if any.

James E. Houk to Robert D. Johnson, Ellwood City, $1.

H.O.L.C. to Robert Davis Parks, 6th ward, $1800.

John Richardson to Albert Gabriel, 8th ward, $1.

Judge W. Walter Braham handed down two decisions on Thursday, both of which concern the same realty transaction. The case is that of Sara Dana Davis against Clyde L. Wigley and a second case against Arthur A. Wigley. The case has its origin in the purchase of a property by Walter S. Wigley and Mary A. Wigley on December 10, 1918 which property was mortgaged to Rebecca Falls, mother of the plaintiff on September 16, 1921. The mortgage was not recorded until October 14, 1926.

On September 10, 1924 a part of the property was conveyed to Clyde Wigley and later another piece to Arthur Wigley. A sheriff's sale on April 6, 1936 gave the plaintiff a deed to the entire property but the defendants appealed on the grounds they did not know of the mortgages. Judge Braham ruled that the previous rule to show cause why action of ejectment for the portions of the premises within six months is made absolute.

Nine divorces were handed down Thursday by Judge W. Walter Braham. Warren McMillin was granted a divorce from Maurine McMillin. Marion S. Hoover is granted a divorce from Howard B. Hoover. Isabelle Regna Morgan from Guy H. Morgan. Elizabeth Dukes Graham from Joseph Leroy Graham, Jr. Albert L. Panella from Edith C. Panella. Mildred Brooks from Harl Brooks. Zola V. Dick from Harper H. Dick. Pauline P. Bocci from Raymond Bocci. Edyce A. Eagan from Gomer J. Eagan. In the case of Frank Baron against Lucille Baron, Judge Braham held the case over until a better effort was made to get service upon the respondent.

In the month of August the institutional department of your county government spent $13,420.41 according to a table of figures compiled by County Controller Frank W. Hill.

The welfare department spent $667.45. The maintenance of the county home cost $1338.46, care of the county insane cost $1258.56. Outdoor relief cost $5147.20. The county farm cost $4930.02 in which was included $4500 on the purchase price.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pints of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

"Ping Suey, Lapsang Souchong or Lichee, lady?"

These are different types of green tea imported to America.

People in the United States drink a lot of tea.

Last year there was imported 102,662,523 pounds of tea.

There are three types of tea—black, green and oolong.

About 80 per cent of all tea imported is of the black kind.

Black tea is what is known as "full fermented".

This tea is processed after the leaves are plucked.

Leaves are spread out in a room containing heavy moisture.

Fermentation encourages action of yeasts and bacteria.

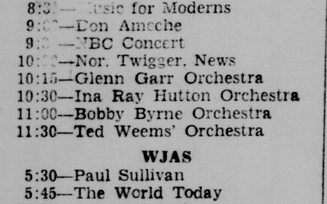

There is a chemical action of micro-organisms in the leaves.

This improves the flavor and aroma of black tea.

NEW CASTLE-GROVE CITY PLAY HERE TONIGHT

Schoolboy Teams Ready To Launch 1940 Grid Season

New Castle High "Red Hurricane" Ready To Meet First Opponent Of Year; Grove City Will Bring Light And Fast Team Here For Nocturnal Engagement; Short Training Period Has Not Hurt Locals; Expect Big Crowd For Game Tonight If Weather Is Good; Kick-off At 8 O'Clock.

FOOTBALL gets under way here tonight at Taggart Stadium with New Castle High's big "Red Hurricane" grid machine pitted against a light and fast Grove City High grid team. The kickoff is slated for 8 o'clock under the lights.

In the event that the weatherman provides a nice evening, the stands will no doubt be well filled. The fans are anxious to get a peek at the new "Red Hurricane" of New Castle high.

Grove City is expected to furnish quite a bit of opposition. They have three or four regulars back from the 1939 team and have a flock of good reserves from last year available. Coach Gene Forker has done a good job of collecting a well balanced team. New Castle defeated Grove City last year 14 to 2 late in the season.

Lack Of Veterans

New Castle takes the field tonight lacking in veteran material. Only three boys who were classed as varsity starters last year will be on hand when the lights go up—Larry Roberts a colored halfback, Freddie McKee at quarter and Warren Morgan at center. Grove City will also have three men in the starting lineup that played here last year, Kuhn at fullback who was a tackle last year, Rogers a lineman and Dickson a halfback.

The "Red Hurricane" will depend on speed and deceptiveness this year rather than power as heretofore. Gone is Lindy Lauro, the big 190 pound fullback, in his place will be Joe Izzo another Mahoningtown boy who will tip the scales around 175. Roberts and Ciazza along with Burris are speed-merchants.

Expect Big Crowd

Faculty Manager Norman Nelson is making plans to handle a big crowd. There is the usual interest here in the grid sport and as always New Castle High will have a big following.

There has not been any increase in the prices this year. There has been a rather brisk ticket sale for the first game.

The fans will find a new improvement at Taggart Stadium this year. A wire fence has been strung the entire way around the playing field. Also there is a permanent New Castle High players bench encased in concrete. The new fence gives the field a nice appearance. The grass on the playing field is greener than ever. The big broad-jumping pits in front of the concrete stands have been filled up and covered with grass.

Better plan to be in the stands tonight and help the boys inaugurate the 1940 scholastic football season. The high school band as always will be on hand with those snappy tunes, under the direction of Prof. Joe Replogle.

Cheerleaders Are Ready For Season

New Castle high's fine group of girl and boy cheerleaders have been yelling themselves hoarse the past few days getting ready for the opening football game of the year here tonight.

The cheerleaders in the past few years have been a big improvement over the cheerleaders of other years and this is due to the untiring efforts that have been put forth by Miss Bernice Bartlett and Miss Margaret Fisher, the latter having charge of the floor training and the former acting as supervisor.

With the improvement of the leadership through the efforts of the young cheerleaders the high school boys and girls have a much better cheering section and make more noise than ever before.

The cheerleaders for the 1940 season are: Girls—Betty Reed, Gloria Augostine, Billy Jean Seal, Mildred Felasco. The girl substitute is Agnes Baker.

Boys — Joe Johnstone, Fred Thompson, Jim Minnick, Stanley Yakowicz. The boy substitute is Ernie Zarrilla.

FISTIC CALENDAR

Gilo Feligenski, city, vs. Jack Reta, Youngstown; 135 pounds.

Les Lazier, city, vs. Tom Sadatore, Warren; 147 pounds.

Bud Watson, East Liverpool, vs. Tom Brockan, Warren; 135 pounds.

Kid Halakie, Vestaburg, vs. Tony Karkido, Youngstown; 118 pounds.

Carl Jones, Vestaburg, vs. Tom Bell, Youngstown; 135 pounds.

John Zokosky, Warren, vs. Pete Misto, Campbell; 147 pounds.

Babe Krause, McKeesport police tourney G. G. champion, Vestaburg, vs. Larry Retardo, Ellwood City; 126 pounds.

Ted Delarado, West Virginia champion, East Liverpool, vs. Marion Klingensmith, Vestaburg; 147 pounds.

Ted Delarado, the West Virginia welterweight champion whose habitat is in East Liverpool and who has a penchant for tumbling o'er opposing meetmen, will have no set-up when he tackles Marion Klingensmith of Vestaburg here in the final battle of an eight-bout show at The Arena one week from Monday night.

According to reports from Vestaburg and other places where the Dutchman has unfurled punches, he is one of the niftiest of welterweights in amateur ranks and expects to do unto Delarado what Delarado did unto Joe Provident when Provident was tumbled for a kayo in the second round of a recent bout here.

The card is studded with sluggers and incidentally two New Castle youths will make their pugilistic debut. One is Gilo Feligensi of Maitland street and the other is Les Lazier, who has a big following at the American Can works. The former is a lightweight and the latter a welterweight.

The Jefferson A. C. and the Educational Recreation council of the W.P.A. will co-operate in the promotion as the latter will receive a share of the receipts with which to purchase equipment for indoor athletic activities during winter months.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

New Castle high school Junior Rifle club has been granted a charter by the National Rifle association. The club has a membership of 20. The officers are: Fred McConnell, president; Betty Ward, secretary and W. C. Thomas, instructor. The club will adhere to the national organization's rules and instructions which have served to give rifle shooting competition the best safety record of any scholastic sport. New Castle high now is one of 3,300 active rifle and pistol clubs affiliated with the National Rifle association.

Incessant tooting of automobile horns and snake dancing are prohibited by football fans following games according to a statement issued recently by Chief of Police Willis G. McMullen. He also stated that rowdyism along thoroughfares will not be tolerated.

Indications are the Fritzie Zivic-Henry Armstrong welterweight championship bout will not be held in Pittsburgh because of a contract between Promoter Mike Jacobs of New York and Eddie Mead, manager of Armstrong. Under the provisions of the contract Armstrong agreed to defend his title for Jacobs in New York. Armstrong will fight Phil Furr in Washington, September 22. Arrangements for that bout were made more than one year ago.

Fifteen thousand fans are expected to witness Billy Conn fight Bob Pastor in a 15-round fight tonight in Madison Square Garden, New York. The writer believes Conn will outpoint Pastor. Tom Kennelly said yesterday he would not be surprised were Conn to stop Pastor in about eight rounds. Pastor will outweigh Conn.

Bobby Riggs paced the field into the quarter-final round of the National Singles tourney at Forest Hills yesterday. He used Hal Surface of Kansas City as a foil and won 6-4, 6-3, 6-3. Others who advanced with Riggs were: Don McNeil, Oklahoma; Elwood Cooke, New York; Jackie Kramer, California; Ted Schroeder; Frankie Kovacs; Frankie Parker and Joe Hunt. The only upset of Thursday was the brushing aside of Sarah Palfrey of Boston by Mary Hardwick of England who won 6-1, 6-3. Others who won third round women matches were: Alice Marble, national champion; Valerie Scott of England and Helen Bernhard of New York.

Marshall Goldberg, former Pitt football star, will appear as halfback for the Chicago Cardinals against Pittsburgh Steelers, Sunday at Pittsburgh.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — Bob Haak, former Indiana star tackle, says he will quit the Brooklyn grid Dodgers and devote all his time to his new bowling alleys.

Football's gaudy parade begins Under the globes of Taggart Stadium.

Sports potpourri: Two of the country's top ranking whistle tooters will manipulate the officiating department of tonight's game. Dexter Very, the Penn State luminary, and Cal Bolster, the Pittsburgh smoothy, who have "worked" Rose Bowl games in addition to many other big games, have accepted the assignment.

The latest grid brochure released from Pittsburgh reveals that Ben Keller, Ellwood City athlete, is on Duquesne university's squad. Ben is 5 feet 10 inches in height, weighs 183 pounds and is battling for a guard post. So far as is known, Keller is the lone Lawrence countian on one of the Pittsburgh collegiate rosters.

Louisville lifted Fred Shaffer out of the Southern Association league in the nick of time. Fred's two mound victories over Kansas City and Indianapolis put the Colonels in the thick of the scramble for the Shaughnessy playoff championship. Reports emanating from the American Association praise the popular localite.

Isn't it about time for someone to start shouting, "Break up the Yanks?" . . . Dominick DiMaggio, the Boston Red Sox professor, is on his way to snatching the title for being the most streamlined bunter in baseball. . . . Bill Werber, Cincy's clouter, does all right on the base paths. To date, Werber has pilfered 29 sacks.

Cincinnati fans prefer seeing the Yanks against their Reds. The revenge angle they say. Wonder of the Reds feel that way? . . . After "Dizzy" Dean completed a speech in which he reportedly said he's O. K. again, Dallas touched him for 14 hits and nine runs. It marked Dallas' first taste of victory in 10 games.

Duquesne university has a dozen and a half lettermen back from the clever '39 concoction. . . . Illinois recently received the largest single order in 10 years—367 pasteboards for the Notre Dame scrap.

CONN TO FIGHT PASTOR TONIGHT

Conn Favored Eight To Five To Win Fifteen Round Battle

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—The long discussed and once postponed 15-round battle between Light Heavyweight Champion Billy Conn and Heavyweight Bob Pastor is scheduled for presentation tonight before a crowd of some 15,000 with the vast majority of the witnesses lined up behind Conn at odds of 8 to 5.

The fight is attractive enough just as it stands, but, as a drawing card, has the added attraction of being an elimination leading to an opponent for Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis this fall or next summer.

"All I want is a decisive win by either of them and I've got an opponent for Louis in a title defense," Promoter Mike Jacobs said today with an undisguised note of optimism.

He, in keeping with minority opinion, supposes that Conn is big enough to fight Louis if the gangling Pittsburgher can get Patsor, although it may not be as simple as that. Conn has the advantage in reach and height and, possibly, in speed, but will run a poor second in the slugging department. Not that Pastor is any killer. Rather, Conn can't punch a nickel's worth for his size.

Seymour Greenberg, national public park tennis champion, is a southpaw performer.

Pitt Grid Outlook Is None Too Promising

Once Mighty Panthers Are Gone, Depend On Speed And Deceptiveness

Schedule Toughest For Many Years, Fifteen Lettermen Will Report

By DICK SHANER
International News Service Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 6—Facts and figures speak for themselves, so you don't have to be a crystal gazer to realize that the once-mighty Pitt Panthers are really going to be up against it this fall as they take their second fling at "de-emphasized" football.

Minus the last of the famed "Sutherland Stars," Dick Cassiano, around whom last year's team was constructed, and with more hope than material, Coach Charley Bowser swings into the second installment of his three-year contract with one of the toughest schedules in the history of the school ahead, and the leanest squad of experienced man-power in years on hand.

Fifteen Leftovers

Thus, for the second straight season, he must again depend on high-speed football, of the razzle-dazzle variety, in contrast with the famed, high-powered steamrollers that his predecessor, Jock Sutherland, used to throw on the gridiron in waves. The program of de-emphasized sports has narrowed the once-steady stream of grade-A material to a mere shadow of its old self, so the "good old days" of powerhouse teams are gone for the time being—and unless something near-miraculous happens, Pitt's proud football record will probably get a pretty good going over by spring time.

Only 15 lettermen will be on hand next Tuesday when fall practice starts, and of these, only four were classified as regulars last year. That means he has something to start with—the nucleus of a fairly effective first team—but from then on, Bowser must depend on his imagination, juggling ability and good luck.

No Reserve Strength

He just doesn't have the reserve reservoir of experienced men, or outstanding sophomores this year. And when a school schedules such an opener as Ohio State, and similar big-time opponents on successive week ends it must have something more than one division to stay in the race. Bowser knows what he's facing, but he's not depressed, at least not in public.

"I realize the prospects are none too good," he said, "but I'm keeping my fingers crossed. We have to rebuild the backfield and most of the line, and we face one of the most ambitious schedules in the history of the school, but we're hoping for the best."

Bessemer Meets Ellwood Sunday In Third Game

Ellwood City Two Up In Race For County League Title

McCREADY MAY OPPOSE OLSON

One more defeat by Ellwood City and Bessemer will have lost the Lawrence County Baseball league championship for 1940, Ellwood City having taken the first two of the five-game series. The third game will be played at 3 p. m. Sunday at Bessemer.

McCready pitched the first game for Ellwood City. He allowed nine hits but was decidedly stingy with men on the paths. Two errors by Bessemer in the fourth frame in the first game permitted six Ellwood City runs after three men should have been retired.

Ellwood City took the second game by playing heads-up baseball. Ferrucci, first baseman, stole third base twice much to the surprise of the Bessemer infield, both thefts occuring after scoring. Miller's timely hit in the fourth to win his own game through Ferrucci stealing third to draw Puromaki. Bessemer's third baseman, out of position. Miller's hit scored two runs.

Stanley Features at Bat

One of the features of the second game was W. Stanley's hitting. He got four safe blows in four times at bat.

Among those who will bear watching in the third game is Mazzant of Ellwood City, who is being eyed by scouts. Jimmy Tropea of Bessemer, center fielder, who has been with Beaver Falls, will return to Bessemer for the third game and it is likely he may play a role in keeping Bessemer in the series.

Indications are that McCready will go to the mound for Ellwood City and Olson, who defeated Ellwood City in his last appearance on the mound, will pitch for Bessemer. Tomasello, who also beat Ellwood City, is also considered as a likely hurler and Updegraff, Ohio State diamond star, will also be available.

How timely the hitting has been in the series is shown by Bessemer poling 21 hits for two runs in the series while Ellwood City has got nine runs off 18 hits in the two games.

Pirates Beaten By VanDermeer

Famous No-Hit Pitcher Returns From Minors And Throttles Pittsburgh

By ED KIELY
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—The New York Yankees were in second place, one percentage point ahead of the Detroit Tigers and only two games behind the lead-leading Cleveland Indians, but the biggest news in baseball today was that Johnny (No-Hit) VanDermeer has launched a successful comeback campaign with the Cincinnati Reds.

VanDermeer, making his first appearance since being recently recalled from the minors, held the Pittsburh Pirates at bay as the league-leading Reds rambled to an easy 6 to 3 victory. He allowed nine hits, struck out six and walked five batters.

Two No Hitters

Vandy, the only major league pitcher ever to hurl two successive no hitters, showed he has plenty of Moxie. It isn't easy to rise to the very pinnacle of baseball success and then two years later find yourself shunted to the minors and still retain your courage. But that is what happened to this 26-year-old thrower.

After learning the famous "rocking chair" pitching motion from Lefty Grove, an ancient American league heaver, Jersey John made big league history by pitching a no-hitter against the Boston Bees on June 11, 1938, and four days later setitng the Brooklyn Dodgers down without a bingle in the first night game in Flatbush history.

This year Vandy lost his magic and with it went his pose and confidence. It was a tough task for Bill McKechnie, his manager, to tell the young pitcher he was going back to the minors, but Vandy took the news calmly and said:

"I'm going back and work hard, Bill. I'll come back soon—a winner." And so it is nice to be able to report that Vandy completed his first major league game this season and received credit for his first victory. The defeat, incidentally, was the Buccaneers' 18th straight on Cincinnati's home grounds. They haven't won there since opening day, 1939.

Giants Win Two

Elsewhere, the New York Giants took the Bees in a doubleheader, 8 to 7 and 4 to 1, and the Brooklyn Dodgers staged a three-run rally in the tenth to hand the Philadelphia Phillies their usual medicine 8 to 5. Hugh (Losing Pitcher) Mulcahy suffered his ninth successive pitching loss and his 19th setback of the season. Chicago and St. Louis were not scheduled.

The Yankees continued to get the pitching and loomed more menacingly than ever in the triple-team American league race to the pennant wire and the world series pot-of-gold.

Ernie Bonham, a rookie, won his fourth consecutive victory as the Yanks defeated Washington, 2 to 1, in the first game of a doubleheader and Atley Donald, apparently fully recovered from sciatica, hurled the world's champions into second place with an 8 to 1 victory in the nightcap.

Tigers Down Indians

The Tigers tore the Indians apart, 11 to 3, for the second straight day, although the Bengals are playing Catcher Billy Sullivan at third. Now Detroit is only three games behind the Indians in the all-important losing column and the Yanks are only two in arrears.

Timely hitting in the clutch by Manager Joe Cronin and Bobby Doerr enabled the Boston Red Sox to gain a 9 to 7 verdict over the Philadelphia Athletics and the Chicago White Sox defeated the St. Louis Browns in a night game, 4 to 2.

West Siders At Pulaski Tonight

First Of Three Game Series For National League Title Starts At 4:45

A championship atmosphere will prevail throughout the Pulaski sector as Pulaski and the West Side A. C. start their battle for the National League championship of the City-County Independent League, tonight at 4:45 o'clock.

Opposing managers will hurl their full force in the hope of grabbing the first of a three game series. Pulaski may send Gentile to the mound. Manager Len Gilbert, genial pilot of the sixth warders, this morning said he was undecided about his pitching choice.

The biggest gallery of the season is expected to witness the affray.

The second clash is listed for Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, on Lee avenue field.

Hunters Given Another Warning On Gun Registering

Upon Application For 1940 License Hunters Must Answer Several Questions

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 6.—State Game Commission President Ross L. Leffler today reiterated a statement that failure of hunters to furnish information about guns voluntarily will not in any way interfere with the lawful possession of firearms.

"At the time a Pennsylvania hunter makes application for his 1940 hunting license," explained Leffler, "he will be requested to furnish certain information relative to the ownership of rifles and shotguns.

"The information is for the confidential use of state officials in case of need in connection with national defense problems. The information is entirely voluntary, and will, in no manner, be used to interfere in any way with the lawful possession of firearms," he added.

Hunters Confused

Leffler pointed out that many hunters had forwarded "unusual inquiries" about the commission's request and some of them were confused.

He said that the national defense information form attached to the license application enumerated "all the more popular calibres of rifles and gauges of shotguns, and requires only the recording of the number of rifles and shotguns owned by the applicant, togethe with the names of manufacturers and the number of cartridges the firearm is designed to carry."

He added that "no serial numbers are required for any of the firearms and no information is requested relative to pistols."

It follows: Sept. 28, Ohio State at Columbus; Oct. 3, Missouri at home; Oct. 12, Southern Methodist at home; Oct. 19, Fordham at home; Nov. 9, Carnegie Tech at home; Nov. 16, Nebraska at home; Nov. 23, Penn State at home; Nov. 30, Duke at Durham, N. Good First Team

The first string, which will have to carry the mail most of the campaign, sizes up something like this: Ends, Joe Rettinger, of Ashland, and Stan Gervelis, of Charleroi; tackles, Ted Konetsky, of German township, and Jack Benz, of Pittsburgh; guards, Rudy Gradisek, of Herminie, and Ralph Fife, of Canton, O.; center, Steve Sinco, of Canonsburg; quarter, Mike Sekela, of Windber; halfbacks, Edgar Jones of Scranton, Bob Thurbon of Erie, and Ernie Bonelli, of Blawnox; fullback, George Kracum of Hazelton, a converted halfback.

Rettinger, Konetsky, Gradisek and Kracum are the only ones who saw full-time service last year, when the Panthers won six and lost three. Much, however, is expected of the halfbacks, Thurbon and Bonelli, and especially Jones, who spent most of his time on the bench as understudy to Cassiano, despite a healthy reputation.

Market Reacts After Five Straight Days Of Climbing, Volume Drops Slightly

By LESLIE GOULD
(International News Service Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—The stock market reacted today after its substantial climb through the five preceding sessions. Losses ranged from fractions to more than a point.

The retreat was orderly, however, and a few sections, notably utilities, bucked the trend for modest gains. Trading continued at a moderately active pace, although volume ran somewhat behind the rate yesterday when sales crossed a million shares for the first time in more than two months.

Steel shares, incurred losses running to a point in Bethlehem and about as much in U. S. Steel. Chrysler also slipped a point before meeting support, while General Motors lost half as much.

Allied Chemical, American Car & Foundry, Chesapeake & Ohio and Lockheed were others to show extreme declines of a point or more.

Coppers, rails, rubbers and aviations generally were slightly under previous closing levels.

Sears Roebuck, DuPont, American Tobacco "B" and most of the oils displayed independent firmness along with the utilities. The Volatile International Business Machines ran up more than 3 points at one time.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEKALL

We are of the opinion that every member of the New Castle police force should know the basic principals of first aid . . . they should know what to do until a doctor arrives. We have every reason to believe that a good many men don't know the proper precedure. An opportunity for every man to learn first aid is available starting September 9 at the Red Cross headquarters. The cost for the course is one dollar . . . now we suggest that every man not on night duty, attend this course and that the city of New Castle pay the bill. This is very important . . . what good does it do for police to answer a call if they don't know what to do when they arrive . . . we think of New Castle as being a great place in which to live, but it can't be really great until it's protective forces are as near perfect as possible, and they can't be near perfect until they know the basic principals of First Aid.

Supposing your little boy or girl is playing on its way home from school . . . something happens the child slips and falls . . . a hand is cut or head has received a bad gash, the child is knocked unconscious and lies there bleeding . . . an officer of the law is called . . . he should know what to do for this child beside picking it up and taking it to the hospital . . . seconds count in cases of this type. We beg you gentlemen . . . learn first aid.

The Lincoln School reunion will be held tonight at the school building...This is the last of the school reunions and is designed especially for that group who attended the school between 1880 and 1900. Residents and former residents of Brown's Addition and Slab Town will be telling of the good times they had when they were a bit younger . . . so if you are not attending the game, folks, drive down to the old Lincoln School and join in the gala occasion . . . meet old friends, it will do you good.

The golf season is drawing to a close . . . only those who can afford to take time in the afternoon are able to play very much golf . . . but the games that have been played all summer will be talked about all fall and winter . . . now our interest concerns the New Castle or some favorite college and their football teams.

Taxpayers Bureau May Be Provided

Chamber Of Commerce Studies Request For Establishment Of Information Bureau

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 6.—The Ellwood City Chamber of Commerce has been asked by a great many local citizens to form a taxpayers information bureau as a division of the local chamber.

The functions of this taxpayers information bureau would be to have very competent men attending all meetings of the borough council, school board and county commissioners. These men attending the meeting would accurately write up all the proceedings of the meetings attended in mimeograph form and in turn mail out to each member of the bureau.

This newly created division of the Chamber of Commerce would be opened up to any taxpayer of the community who is interested in knowing the business transactions of all the above mentioned bodies.

If at any time information on the proceedings of council, school board or the county commissioners was needed by a taxpayer, it would be in a specail file for reference.

A great many eastern cities have had unnsual success in this type of a division of their Chamber of Commerce and the local chamber has been having heavy demands from local citizens in the past four weeks to inaugurate the idea here.

J. A. Evans, president of the Ellwood City Chamber of Commerce, when contacted on the matter today stated that he thought the taxpayers information bureau as a division of the chamber would be a wonderful asset to the community and that the school board, borough council and county commissioners should heartily welcome and endorse the idea. Mr. Evans stated further that the idea would be presented at the next chamber board of directors meeting to be held on September 26.

The chamber president optimistically also said that he knew the rest of the board of directors would be enthusiastically in favor of such a new service division to the taxpayers of the community.

Boro Council Members Meet

Large Crowd Of Spectators At Session Held On Thursday Evening

CAPLAN RETAINS PLACE IN COUNCIL

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 6—Before a large crowd of spectators, the Ellwood City Council convened last night in the city building for the regular September meeting during which a motion made by Councilman Boyd and seconded by Habert that the action of a former meeting at which Harry Caplan was elected third ward councilman to fill a vacancy be resbcinded was declared out of order.

This marked the second meeting during which a long heated discussion had taken place concerning the election for former finance chairmain Caplan. Last night, Mr. Caplan was represented by Attorney William D. Cobau of New Castle, who declared that Mr. Caplan had been legally elected and that he could not be unseated save by court action.

Attorney J. W. Humphrey, boro solicitor, also declared that the motion was out of order and the final decision to that effect was made by council president, Elmer S. Greenham. When Mr. Caplan was elected, he received 6 out of 8 votes. Mr. Habert was absent at that meeting and said he believed the election to be illegal because it took place at a special session. Attorney Humphrey replied by the act of '39 it was legal to transact any business, which was not objected to by the body.

Petition Read

Two petitions each bearing 56 signatures from the third ward objecting to Mr. Caplan's election were read and placed on file.

The resignation of police officer, Fred B. Henderson, who has been with the force for the past ten years was accepted. Mr. Henderson has accepted a position of head police officer at Aetna Standard Engineering Company. It was said that Officer James Hayes would also join the Aetna company force in the near future. Upon a request of the burgess for the election of three new officers, it was decided to hold a special meeting next Thursday night when action will be taken. The Council will advertise for applications with the age limit being forty years.

It was agreed to have the street committee meet with residents of Joffre street who want redress for property damage caused by the widening of the street.

To Build Garage

A resolution that the rules and regulations committee secure plans for the erection of a building, 80x120, to be used for garage purposes and erected on 8 lots owned by the boro and located on Factory avenue between Eighth and Ninth Sts. was passed. It is to be made a W. P. A project with native materials to be used. It was said that repairs to the present Sixth street garage would amount to $1285, and that the building still would be inadequate to house boro equipment.

Bids on the above mentioned lots were all rejected as was a bid of $5000 from the Badger and Fleeger company for the boro property, adjacent to the fire station, and now used for curb market grounds. Mr. Curry said the original cost of the Sixth street property was $18,000.

Tax receipts for the month of August were: 1938, $135; 1939, $154; and 1940, $6,180.

A recommendation of the finance committee that the salary of Fire Chief Harry V. Wolfe, be cut in half until he returned to duty was referred back to the committee. Mr. Wolfe has been ill for six months suffering from burns received in a fall at his home. Councilmen Howell, Hill, Lanzi and Caplan objected to the action stating that Mr. Wolfe had been a boro employe for more than thirty years and that the fire department was taking care of his work without additional cost to the boro.

Bicycle Licenses

All money for bicycle licenses was turned over to the boro secretary and in the future quarterly reports will be made. The license money amounts to about $160 per year. Last year 650 bicycles were licensed and so far the number totals 671.

Upon recommendation of Councilman Habert, boro taxes can again be paid in four equal installments at face.

Total wines, costs and forfeits amounted to $175 with the most of the fines being for traffic violations. Fire damage in the month of August amounted to $25.

The health officer's report showed six cases of whooping cough, one each of scarlet fever and diphtheria.

Street lights will be placed in the Rolling Hills plan of lots and property owners will be notified to cut branches from trees, overhanging the streets and sidewalks.

A request for payment of a doctor bill for a child injured at one of the play grounds was given to the finance and recreation committees. For a supply storage room for distribution of surplus foods, a request of the relief department was given to the rules and regulations committee.

For the approval of the Runyan company bus service, a request was given to the utility committee with a report back at a future meeting.

Bids for materials for street improvements were given to the street committee for classification.

The October meeting will be held on the third Thursday of the month.

No wonder Latin Americans don't understand our Democracy. The losing candidate up here needn't keep on running when the race is over.

Pittsburgh Suburban Resident Prevented From Suicide Leap

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Finally cajoled into surrendering after barricading himself in his room in an upper Broadway hotel and hurling most of its furnishings into the street, a man registered as Earl J. McBride of (1697 Potomac avenue) Dormont, Pa., a Pittsburgh suburb, was removed to Bellevue hospital for observation early today.

Police had erected a life net under the eighth floor window of his two-room suite in the Beacon hotel and a patrolman made ready to don a life belt and plunge down from the ninth floor when the man hearkened to the suggestion of Detective Lawrence Wade and gave in.

Wade, keeping up a running conversation from the window of an adjoining room, urged the man to unlock the door and come out.

"If you'll help me find my wife, I'll come out," the man said.

"It's as good as done," promised Wade, and the barricade ended.

Strollers on Broadway at 2 o'clock this morning were startled to see the furnishings come tumbling out of the room. First came a small table which bounced off an automobile, then a lamp, the bedsheets, telephone books, a suitcase and the wastebasket. Attired in trousers and an undershirt, the man appeared at the window and dared the assembled crowd to "come up and get me". The door had been barricaded from the inside with the bed, secretary and other furniture.
